Faith the Receiver of the Promise

1

Your Healing: A Granted Promise from God

We have already been granted a promise from God that healing is ours, but it is up to us to receive our healing. As receivers of the promise of healing, we must still take healing unto ourselves through faith. God has promised healing, but it is our faith that allows us to grab hold of our healing.

For all the promises of God in him are yea, and in him Amen, unto the glory of God by us. 2 Corinthians 1:20

We cannot receive anything unto ourselves; every good gift comes from God in Heaven. Healing is a good gift that has been provided by God through Jesus Christ. To take and keep the healing that has been provided, we cannot have faith in what we feel, what we see, or the lies of the devil. We cannot doubt in our hearts about our promise of healing from God.

Questions for You:

1. Before reading this, did you know healing has been promised to you by God?

2. Have your feelings, the things you see, and doubting thoughts kept you from receiving your promised gift of healing?
